

WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

Teodora Quiroga

Join us for the upcoming roundtable session, which will focus on:

- The differences between gender and why such differences exist;
- How these differences manifest themselves inside and outside the workplace;
- How understanding these differences can resolve conflict and promote a better work environment and opportunities for women

Teodora has spent much of her career applying her understanding of psychology to the workplace to better understand the role of gender in organisations, so that women can engage with male colleagues in a way that takes into account gender differences more effectively.
